The PSA is an objective pre-trial risk assessment that measures an individual's propensity to commit another violent crime and their propensity not to appear in court. The PSA is a tool judges may use when deciding whether or not an

B. City Administration Building Update by Sue Quanbeck Etten, Director of Central Services

Presentation: Approximately 10 minutes followed by discussion

Funding for the City Administration Building is secured, the first bid package will be advertised later this week, and the occupancy plan is completed. The plan is guided by four goals which resulted in the determination of where departments will be located. The new building will serve as a "business and development center" while City Hall will be a "resident services center." The plan includes discontinuation of the lease at 100 S. Dakota Ave. in 2018. There will be a groundbreaking in January 2017.

C. Revisions to the Pension Trusts by Tracy Turbak, Director of Finance and Mary Beth Braitman, Ice Miller

Presentation: Approximately 20 minutes followed by discussion

Pension revisions in 2013 reduced the City's liability for future premiums; as a result accumulated assets to date exceed the lower liability. Objectives of revisions to the pension ordinance are to: fully fund a 115 Trust to pay remaining retiree health benefits; move excess assets currently held in retiree health benefit buckets (401(h) accounts) to the defined pension benefit buckets; make accounting consistent with current GAAP requirements; make language consistent with the current IRS code; and, preserve promised retiree health care benefits and promised employee pension benefits. The proposed ordinance will update language, close 401(h) accounts, establish a new 115 Trust, deposit sufficient assets into the 115 Trust, and deposit all remaining excess assets into pension trusts.

Discussion included: impacts on budget planning, current funding processes, accounting, City contributions, oversight, and City obligations. The pension revision ordinance will be presented to the Council for a 1st Reading on Tuesday, December 13, 2016.
